GARDEN CLUB TO SPONSOR CHRISTMAS DECORATING CONTEST FOR HOMES AND BUSINESSES

Demonstration on Corn Borer Control To be Held Sat.

A demonstration concerning corn borer control is scheduled for this Saturday, December 10. The interesting and informative demonstration will be held at the Tom Williams farm, located one-half mile south of Frankfort on Cedar road. The event will start at 10:30 a. m., weather permitting.

The Frankfort Motor and Equipment company will furnish all equipment necessary for the occasion, and they announced early this week that a "Horn" shredder will be used for the demonstration.

The corn borer control program is based on the fact that the borers crawl in stalks and cobs of corn left in the field where they hibernated for the winter, and in the spring continue their multiplication.

Many dollars can be saved by farmers by putting this control program in operation on their farms.

Jeanette Heusner Became Bride of Dexter Phillips Saturday afternoon

St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed church in Frankfort was the scene of a lovely wedding Saturday afternoon, December 3 at four o'clock, when Miss Jeanette Heusner became the bride of Mr. Dexter Phillips, Rev. Erich Bizer, the pastor, officiated.

Miss Heusner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Heusner of Frankfort and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Rainer of Minneapolis, Minn.

The church was decorated with white "Mums, ferns and candles. Mrs. Leonard Warning of New Lenox presided at the organ, playing appropriate music as the guests were arriving as well as the professional. She also accompanied Miss Barbara Lynn of Chicago when she sang, "At Dawning," "Ich Liebe Dick," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's hand was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of bridal satin, with a bodice of French lace, with tiny buttons down the back, and long lace sleeves which came to a point at the wrist with a button closure. There was a lace peplum at the hip line. The bouffant skirt ended in a long train. Her finger tip French illusion net veil fell from a tiara of pearl blossoms. She wore a strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, and carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and white roses.

Miss Virginia Winning of Chicago was maid of honor and Mrs. Robert Buhse of Waterman, Ill., and Mrs. Milo Phillips of Chicago were bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of medium blue taffeta, made in off the shoulder fashion, matching gauntlets, and flowers in their hair.

New Lenox will be a Christmas village again this year, since the New Lenox Garden club will sponsor a Christmas decorating contest as they did last year and which proved to be so successful.

Last year many homes and business places entered the contest, and for those who did not win the prizes, they had the satisfaction of helping to make their village a place of beauty at the Christmas season.

This year the Garden Club has added one more feature, that of Junior entries. Under this heading are those 16 years or under who will decorate their yard or something at their home. There will be three prizes in this class, first, $5.00; second, $3.00 and third, $2.00.

For the best decorated residence, there will be three prizes, first $15.00; second, $10.00 and third, $5.00.

In the business section, two prizes will be given, first $10 and second $5.00.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the O'Daniel drug store.

Judging will take place on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday before Christmas.

FORMER KINSMAN COUNTRY CLUB HOUSE RAZED BY $100,000 FIRE

When S. L. Bowman, 45, caretaker of the Wayside Country club house in Homer township awakened last Saturday morning, December 3, about 4 a. m., he detected smoke. Quickly dressing, he opened his bedroom door to investigate, and was greeted by flames which poured into his room.

The flames were so heavy that he saw he could not go in that direction and having to move in, he saw the only way of escape was through a window. He jumped thru the window 14 feet to the ground landing in the shrubs, scratching his face and arms. Getting up, he ran around to the other side of the building and found it a blazing inferno. He stated to Will County Deputy Sheriff's Jay Swedder and Thomas Gasparich and the Lockport Fire Chief William Clark, that it appeared as tho the flames were centered in the northeast corner of the building where the kitchen was located.

Bowman then ran to a nearby farm house and called the Lockport fire department. Fire Chief Clark

Sale of Christmas Seals Helps Many

The accompanying picture shows the mobile x-ray unit of the Will County Tuberculosis association. This is the unit which takes free chest x-rays of the people in Will County. The object, of course, is to find those undiscovered cases of tuberculosis so that they, in turn, will not infect their families and friends.

It is well known, that about one half of the number of cases are not known, and these must be found if tuberculosis is to be wiped out.

The expense in this field is provided through the Christmas Seals, and is a worthy cause to contribute to.

Among the many facts now known about this dread disease, is that, tuberculosis is caused by a germ; "catching"; it cannot be inherited; can have it without feeling sick; can usually be cured if found early enough; your doctor can tell if you have it by x-rays; and other tests; you can get a free x-ray from the Will County mobile x-ray unit; and Will County provides free hospitalization for Will county patients.

Many School Problems Cause of New Trend

Throughout the state of Illinois the growing awareness of the inadequacy of most of the existing school districts to meet the needs of their pupils has led to widespread and rapid district reorganizations. Leading educators, administrators, school board members, and laymen in the state heartily endorse and look with approval toward the new trend to provide better instruction, modern facilities and equipment, and broader opportunities for all children of elementary and secondary school age.

Behind this movement for better schools lies what is commonly called the school survey law of 1941 and the School Survey Act of 1945. These two laws, and especially the latter, provide that a survey of the schools in any county can be made if voted by the boards of directors and the boards of education of that county. The law authorized survey committees which were selected by the various boards. Typically in each county, five representatives were chosen by rural boards and four representatives by urban boards. These selected committees investigated the schools within their county systems and prepared reports containing recommendations based on their findings as to educational needs, transportation, administration, welfare of pupils, and the ability of the communities to support adequate schools. Up until June of 1949 all but one of the 102 counties had used these laws to make specific studies of local educational requirements. In addition to the school survey legislation, the state legislature has created a State Advisory Commission appointed by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to make available any information that a survey committee may need.

One of the primary results of the various surveys conducted over the state is the revealing of the inadequate education given to most elementary pupils in rural schools. This inadequacy is largely due to the impracticability of providing specialized instruction for a small number of pupils and to the impossibility of raising the necessary finances over the relatively small area of the rural district.

Based on the recommendations of survey committees the Unit District has come into prominence in Illinois. The Unit District is a reorganization of several small districts into one larger district which may include former elementary school districts as well as elementary school districts. This Unit District may conduct its educational program in only one school building or in several school buildings located at suitable places over the district. The larger district is able to supply more efficient administration of the educational unit, more specialized instruction for pupils, comfortable transportation, modern school plants and equipment, and broader curriculum.

It should be remembered that this school reorganization is brought about by the democratic process. Although a survey committee investigates educational systems, makes a report, and offers recommendations, it has no authority to establish a reorganization plan. The reorganization can only be accomplished through the vote of the people. It is encouraging that the people have seen the necessity of organizing 217 Unit Districts in Illinois.

Sales Are Lifeblood of Retailing

One of the experts in the field of retail trade recently said: "Price drops will certainly lead to depressed business unless we sell a lot more goods to maintain our dollar volume. If we can sell enough more units to make up for the loss in average sale, we shall be able to meet the price adjustments without recession or depression. Retailers must keep up their assortments and not 'control' themselves out of business. We cannot sell what we do not have, and sales will be more important than ever before in our business lives. Sales are the 'lifeblood' of our whole economic system."

This is a restatement of the principle which lies at the root of mass distribution of goods of all kinds. It first came into general practice with the chain systems, which pioneered the idea that the road to lower prices to the consumer lay in greater volume. When that occurred, a satisfactory year-end total profit could be made even though the margin on each sale was so small as to hardly affect the price. The independent merchant has adopted this principle, which is one of the reasons he has been so successful in meeting chain competition and holding his business.

A U. S. News & World Report article observed, "With less money needed for food and clothing, many city families discover they have more money to use in other ways". Retailing has done much to make this condition an actuality. Lower wholesale prices have been passed on to the ultimate consumer in the form of lower retail prices. Everything is being done to encourage buying and to maintain sales volume—and both merchant and consumer benefit from it.

Consider Your Holiday Driving

Don't Let Death Take Your Holiday! That is the slogan of a nationwide campaign by the National Safety Council to hold down the Christmas-New Year holiday accident toll this year.

Council figures show the year-end holiday season is the most dangerous period of the year, and that accidents annually mar the holiday celebration in thousands of homes throughout the nation.

In a united effort to focus public attention on the extra holiday hazards and the extra caution needed to meet them, city and state officials, civic groups, local safety councils and 160 national organizations are joining with the Council in the Christmas safety campaign.

The Council pointed out that traffic accident deaths on both Christmas Eve and Christmas Day run about twice as many as the annual daily average. Heavier travel and the festive spirit of the holiday season add to the normal winter hazards of bad weather, slippery roads and added hours of darkness.

"Every family in America should put one extra gift under its Christmas tree this year," said Ned H. Cohn, president of the Council. "That gift is life. It could be the life of some member of the household, or of a stranger. But it will be saved because someone has just used a little extra caution, common sense and courtesy to meet holiday hazards."

"Unless everyone is willing to go to a little trouble by taking extra care during the Christmas holiday season, America is likely to celebrate the holiday by repeating the record-breaking carnage of the recent Labor Day holiday disaster, when more than 550 persons were killed by needless accidents."

"Remember—a safe Christmas celebration, free from accidents that mar family happiness at this joyous time of the year, is the very best present anybody can give or receive. Don't let death take your holiday!"

TRAINING WORLD WAR II VETS TO BE AM. LEGION LEADERS

World War II veterans who have been flocking to the American Legion standard in great numbers since VJ Day 1945 now number 68 per cent of all Cook County Legionnaires, Patrick J. O'Donnell, county commander, reported this week.

There are nearly 86,000 men and women members of the Legion in the First Division, Cook County, of the Department of Illinois, O'Donnell said. In addition, the Auxiliary in the county has 20,000 members. The Auxiliary consists of wives, sisters and mothers of Legionnaires.

Coincidentally, the percentage of World War II veterans in Cook County matches Legion statistics on a state and national level. The Department of Illinois has 226,000 members. Nationally, the Legion boasts of a 3,000,000 following.

Prior to September 1945, the Legion had 57,498 members in the county, 125,418 in Illinois and 1,621,448 over the nation.

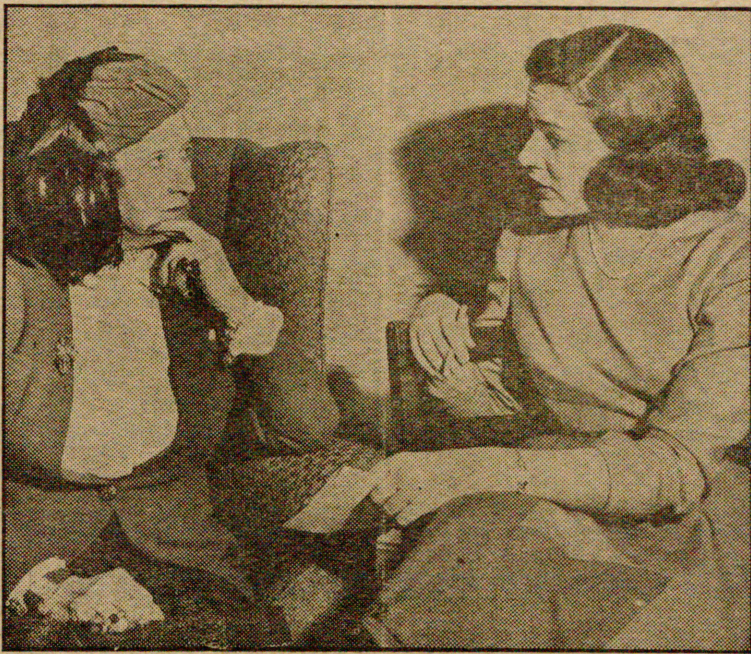

A recent estimate from national Legion headquarters in Indianapolis, Ind., O'Donnell pointed out, gives the combined assets of the Legion, including national, state, district, county and post levels as $200,000,000.

Cook County has 398 posts, Illinois 1,135 and the country 17,156. The Legion this year has its first World War II national commander, George N. Craig, a 40 year old attorney from Brazil, Ind. He has already made a half-dozen dynamic appearances in the Chicago area.

It is only a question of time before World War II veterans completely take over the Legion, O'Donnell observed. In anticipation of this, the Legion nationally has organized training courses for future Legion leaders and the Department of Illinois has done the same.

Every fall a commanders' and adjutants' conference is held in the state headquarters in Bloomington and a leadership forum in the Chicago City hall council chambers. This year the Bloomington conference was held Oct. 15-16 and the city hall forum Nov. 20.

State's First Woman Representative to Run for Senate

At a luncheon given in the Woodridge Country club in Lisle last Wednesday, Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill announced her candidacy for Senator in the 41st Senatorial district on the Republican ticket.

Mrs. O'Neill has proffered her candidacy because she feels that the people of the State of Illinois are entitled to the best possible representation in the State Senate in replacement of the retired Senator Barr, of Joliet. However, another reason prompting this action on Mrs. O'Neill's part is that of her constituents and friends' encouragement to run for the office of State Senator. This encouragement has reached such a proportionate climax.

Mrs. O'Neill has served as a director of the Joliet YMCA, as secretary of the board of directors and is now first vice president, as a director of the Joliet Association of Commerce, the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, the Joliet Public Health council and the Morning Star Mission. He has been a trustee and treasurer of the Central Presbyterian church of Joliet and he served as chairman of the first American Red Cross War Fund campaign in Will county in 1942, as chairman of the Will County Tuberculosis society's Christmas Seal campaign and in various capacities on Community Chest, YMCA, Association of Commerce and other campaigns.

At the present time he is a director of James G. Heggie Manufacturing company, Joliet Wrought Washer company, Corn Belt Hatcheries, Inc. and National Bank of Joliet.

He has been Republican precinct committeeman of the 16th precinct of Joliet since 1933 except during his army service and has been vice chairman of the Will County Republican Central committee for the last two years and a number of years ago was village attorney for Manhattan, for several years. He has held no other appointed or elected public office and has not run for office other than for precinct committeeman.

He is also a member of Harwood Post, American Legion, Mount Joliet Lodge No. 42 R. A. M. Chapter No. 27 and Joliet Commandery No. 4, Knights Templar of the Masonic Order, Joliet Kiwanis club, Joliet Rivals club, Elks Club of Joliet, and American Bar associations and Joliet University club.

Mr. Barr and his wife, Louisa B. Barr have two sons, James Jr., a sophomore at the University of Illinois and George Britt, a junior at Joliet Township high school.

Mrs. O'Neill was the first woman elected to an Illinois legislature, where she has served as representative from the 41st District similar to those of the retired Senator Barr in the Senate, namely, Mr. Barr being, at present, "the dean of the Senate" and Mrs. O'Neill the "dean of women" of the Illinois Legislature.

Mrs. O'Neill's record in her capacity as an Illinois legislator speaks for itself and stands out emphatically towards improvement of public education as well as welfare legislation. She has voted favorable on labor, educational, and welfare legislation and has fought aggressively towards legislation to eliminate discrimination against women. She has also been an enthusiastic supporter of the merit system in the Civil Service commission.

Mrs. O'Neill is a member of the Women's Trade Union League; the League of Women Voters; the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs; the American Legion Auxiliary; the Business Women's Professional Club; the Altrusa Club of Joliet; besides being a prospective member of the Tau Kappa Gamma society, a group of career women from the State.

Mrs. O'Neill is upwards of 65 years of age and the widowed mother of two sons. She is a native Illinoisan and counts her residence in this district back to 1908. She was born in Pike county. She is widely known throughout the entire State and has talked before audiences in every county in Illinois.

Mrs. O'Neill counts among her friends, groups from both parties and is considered by all to be admirably qualified to be State Senator from the 41st District.

James Barr, Joliet, Is Candidate for State Senator

Another candidate for the office of state senator is Attorney James W. Barr of 958 Western avenue, Joliet.

Mr. Barr was born in Joliet, on March 9, 1904, the son of George A. Barr and Mary Speer Barr, both now deceased. His father was one of the founders of and a member of the law firm of Barr and Barr for over 45 years and the head of the firm from 1929 until his death in 1945.

James W. Barr attended the Joliet public schools and Joliet Township high school graduating in 1921. Entering the University of Illinois, he was graduated from its commerce school in 1926 and the law school in 1928. He has practiced law with the firm of Barr and Barr, as a member of the firm since 1928, except for two years and eight months when he was a member of the armed forces, and has been head of the firm since 1945.

He joined the U. S. Army Air force August 24, 1942 and entered active duty September 2, 1942. He served in the continental U. S. with the Air Transport command of the Army Air force and was sent overseas several times on special missions. He was in Russia at the time of the death of his father, January 26, 1945. He went on inactive duty April 26, 1945.

Mr. Barr has served as a director of the Joliet YMCA, as secretary of the board of directors and is now first vice president, as a director of the Joliet Association of Commerce, the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, the Joliet Public Health council and the Morning Star Mission. Personal Religion

Lesson for December 11, 1949

ELECTRICITY was discovered long ago, but there are millions of people today who never use it and don't know anything about it. Modern plumbing has been in use ever since most of us were born; but most human beings still walk for their water instead of getting it from pipes. All inventions take quite a while to get around. So it is in the realm of the spirit. Jeremiah the prophet, Dr. Foreman has been said, is the "man who discovered the individual." But 2700 years after his time, the individual needs rediscovering. Even in the church, some people live and act as if Jeremiah's discovery had never been made.

A Man Stands Alone

ALTHOUGH JEREMIAH was a priest and aristocrat by birth, his own class disowned him. The story in Jeremiah 26 shows dramatically why this was. He predicted doom for his nation, and since his own "upper-bracket" people were the nation's leaders, they considered Jeremiah's attitude not only unpatriotic but a downright personal insult.

If it had been left to the priests and the official prophets, the day of Jeremiah's sermon at the temple would have been his last. To put it bluntly, the difference between Jeremiah and all the other "prophets" and priests could be put this way: He knew the nation was too rotten to last, but they thought it was plenty good enough.

They probably could have agreed with him that a wicked nation deserves divine punishment; only they could see nothing wrong with Judah.

Religion by Proxy?

THEY were mistaken many ways. Mistake number one: They thought the Temple, with all that went on in it, was much more important to God than it really was. The whole business—Temple, white-robed priests, chanting choirs, the burning of animals, the incense and the mystic lights—it had become in their eyes a sort of immense good-luck charm. They thought: Surely God will not destroy a city that contains this Temple!

But Jeremiah saw through that mistake. Institutions, rituals, organizations, ceremonies, sacraments, these are all simply means to an end, they have no value in themselves. Everything we call "public worship" is good only if and so far as it lifts and cleanses the spirits of the worshippers and brings them nearer God.

The most perfect and impressive worship, engaged in by those whose hearts are evil, becomes a blasphemy. A fine church is no substitute for fine people. A beautiful worship program will not conceal from God's eye unbeautiful souls.

Mistake number two: The priests and prophets supposed there was such a thing as religion by proxy. They thought the priests by carrying on their duties could take care of the situation.

God writes on the heart

ANOTHER MISTAKE made by those poor fools of false prophets and priests was in supposing they had the Law of God, when all they had was two tables of stone shut up in a box (I Kings 8:9). They were proud of those tables of stone, they were the Commandments of God, and they were guarded most carefully in the Holy of Holies in the Temple. Surely, God would not destroy the city that possessed the Sacred Law! But Jeremiah knew better. In the long run, the only place the Law of God does real good is when it is written on the heart.

In Jeremiah's most famous prophecy (chap. 31) he looks forward to the day when God's handwriting shall be not on tables of stone but on human hearts. That prophecy is being fulfilled day by day as persons turn their hearts to the Lord and open the book of their lives that God may write his laws there.

Yet how many people have never learned this truth! Having a great tradition is good; owning and reading the Bible is good; but it is not the Bible on the shelf that counts, not carrying a testament in the pocket, but the Word of God "hid in the heart" of those who know, love and do what God desires.

Accidents Decrease On County Roads In Cook County

Fatal accidents on Cook County highways of Chicago declined during October for the thirteenth consecutive month, it is reported by the traffic division of the county highway department.

October's figures brought the total fatalities on county roads in the first 10 months of 1949 to 113, as compared with 155 for the same period last year, a decline of 27 per cent.

"This means that 42 persons are living today who would have died if the 1948 death rate had continued," said President William N. Erickson of the County Board, who also heads the Cook County Traffic Safety Commission.

Chairman Erickson attributed the fine showing to enlightened cooperation on the part of suburban authorities and the press as well as the motorists themselves. The Traffic Safety Commission, which has been in existence a little more than two years, already has extended its organization into more than one-third of the suburbs, he said.

"These local councils are taking hold of the problem out in the field, and the value of their efforts is reflected directly in the lowered death toll," Erickson said. "Without their cooperation, it would be extremely difficult to make headway in the county area."

"The commission believes that the only way to achieve maximum safety on the county roads is to work for uniform enforcement of traffic laws. That is impossible without the aid of the local authorities."

"On our part, we are ready to help with traffic engineering services, and there is scarcely a day when we do not receive requests from some suburb or another for such help."

"The commission and the local councils have done much in the way of education, and in that field the press, both suburban and metropolitan, has been most generous. I think the value of the newspapers' contribution is reflected in the fact that in the city of Chicago the 1949 death toll also has been sharply reduced."

"City residents drive out in the county and county people drive into the city, so it is to a considerable extent the same body of motorists in each area. The fact that the drivers themselves seem to be more aware of the problem and eager to do their part is a most encouraging sign."

"The task of safety promotion is never done and we must all renew our efforts to eliminate highway accidents. The winter months ahead are extra hazardous and call for extra care in driving. But we know from the record made thus far this year that we can have safety on our highways if we try hard enough."

Ill. Night Clubs Must Pay Sales Tax

Attorney General Ivan A. Elliott has won for the people of Illinois the immense revenue to be derived from levying of the state 2 per cent sales tax on sales of food and drink by night clubs.

Upon securing this favorable decision by the State Supreme Court, Elliott immediately announced that "proper steps" will be taken to attempt to recover $331,793.82 in refunds made to Chicago night club owners from sales tax payments paid under protest by them.

The Supreme Court's judgment reversed the ruling in December, 1948, of the Cook County Circuit Court which held that night clubs are exempt from paying the sales tax upon food and drink, inasmuch as they are primarily entertainment places, their sales of food and drink being incidentally to their amusement business.

Soon after the lower court's decision, Elliott's predecessor in office announced he would appeal from the decision and within a short time thereafter the $331,793.82 refunds were made to the night clubs.

Attorney General Elliott took the oath of office on January 10, announcing soon after that he would appeal the cases. This appeal was filed April 19, resulting in today's favorable Supreme Court decision.

Night clubs, the Supreme Court's opinion said, are engaged both in the business of providing entertainment and selling tangible personal property.

Public Service Co. Awarded Life Saving Medals to Four Men

Four employees of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois November 29 were each awarded life saving medals for their fast thinking and prompt actions that saved a total of five lives in 1949.

Medal winners were: Bennett E. Drover, Barrington; Merle W. Hawkins, Streator; Earl M. Olsen, Cicero; and Hugh P. Whitted, Jr., formerly of Wheaton.

The presentations of the Britton I. Budd medals for the saving of human life were made by the donor, Mr. Budd, president of the Public Service company, at a meeting of utility executives in the Palmer House, Chicago.

The four 1949 awards bring to 100 the total number of persons receiving the medal since it was established 24 years ago to stimulate interest in safety and preparedness and to give recognition for outstanding examples of prompt action and presence of mind in coping with physical emergencies.

Drover won his medal by applying pole top resuscitation to save the life of a fellow-unionman, Joan Krumery. The latter had accidentally come into contact with a live wire while installing new service to a customer's property near Barrington last August 16. Both were working on the same pole when Krumery received a shock and Drover successfully applied artificial respiration while both were still off the ground.

Hawkins medal was awarded for his prompt use of prone pressure resuscitation to save the life of a co-worker, Louis Martin, after the latter had received a severe electric shock while helping set a new pole near Long Point.

Rescue of two men who had been accidentally tossed into a Wisconsin lake when their boat capsized won Olsen his medal. He and a friend, who were on a fishing expedition, jockeyed their boat into position, pulled the victims from the water, and carried them safely to shore in the face of rough water and a heavy wind.

Successful application of prone pressure resuscitation which saved the life of a Cicero man suffering from insulin shock won the medal for Whitted. He applied artificial respiration until the inhalator squad and doctor arrived to take over and was credited by the latter for saving the man's life. Whitted, who worked for the company temporarily during the gas conversion program in the utility's western area last summer, presently is attending Westminster Theological seminary in Philadelphia, Penn., and came to Chicago personally to receive the medal.

Electronic Progress

Control of the electron has created a field day for invention. U. S. Patent Office records 34 electronic patents in one week. Benjamin Franklin, experimenting with kite and lightning, was first to advance electronic theory. Electrons, parts of the atom, are utilized to activate light meters, hearing aids, motor switches, television and radio tubes, to mention only a few of hundreds of modern utilities.

IMPORTANT TO ILL. VETERANS

Two important deadlines for Illinois veterans are at hand, the Illinois Veterans commission warned today.

The first affects those veterans who have service-connected disabilities of 50 per cent. They had until December 1 to submit evidence of relationship and dependency to qualify for dependency allowances effective on that date.
Formerly this benefit was restricted to those with 60 percent disabilities.

Veterans who can qualify for this benefit should not assume that their records with the federal government are complete in this respect. An assumption of this kind in error, could mean that payments would not become effective until date the evidence was received. Only five months are allowed for evidence to be received.

The second deadline affects veterans with service-connected disabilities who permitted their National Service Life Insurance to lapse. Veterans have until December 31 to reinstate their insurance without having service-connected disabilities counted against them.

Veterans can obtain application forms from any IVC officer and can take a physical examination from any physician.

All service officers of the Illinois
Veterans commission have been advised of these important deadlines and are ready to assist veterans in meeting them.

The importance of a cardinal rule of pedestrian safety is vividly illustrated in this poster distributed in November by the Chicago Motor Club to 44,000 elementary school classrooms throughout its Illinois and Indiana territory. Lesson sheets accompanying the poster help to point out the need for use of crosswalks at street corners in order to avoid accidents. This is a prize winner in the fifth national safety poster contest conducted by the Chicago Motor Club and affiliated organizations of the American Automobile Association.

MITE'S MUTTERINGS

Thé Lord's Prayer is the most perfect of all prayers, but it has had to withstand a great deal of mulling and confusion, especially from children trying to learn it from noor enunciators or from muttering crowds.

One little boy was heard to pray: "Harold be Thy name."
Another begged: "Give us this day our jelly bread."
A New York child petitioned: "Lead us not into Penn Station."
